

Make a collage of all your favourite things from Oliver Jeffers' books

A collage is a fun way to make a very individual piece of art using lots of different materials. We've included some images and artwork from Oliver Jeffers' books so that you can make a collage of your own using your favourite characters and scenes from his books. Just cut out the pictures you like and glue them down to make a scene.

Remember, always get a grown-up to help you with the cutting out!

Why not try using other materials as well? You could cut pictures out of a magazine or newspaper, or maybe you have some interesting fabric lying round the house. But don't go cutting up your new t-shirt, your grown-up would NOT be happy!

You don't have to stop there though... once you've made your scene, you can paint over the top of it as well. There really is no limit to what you can do!

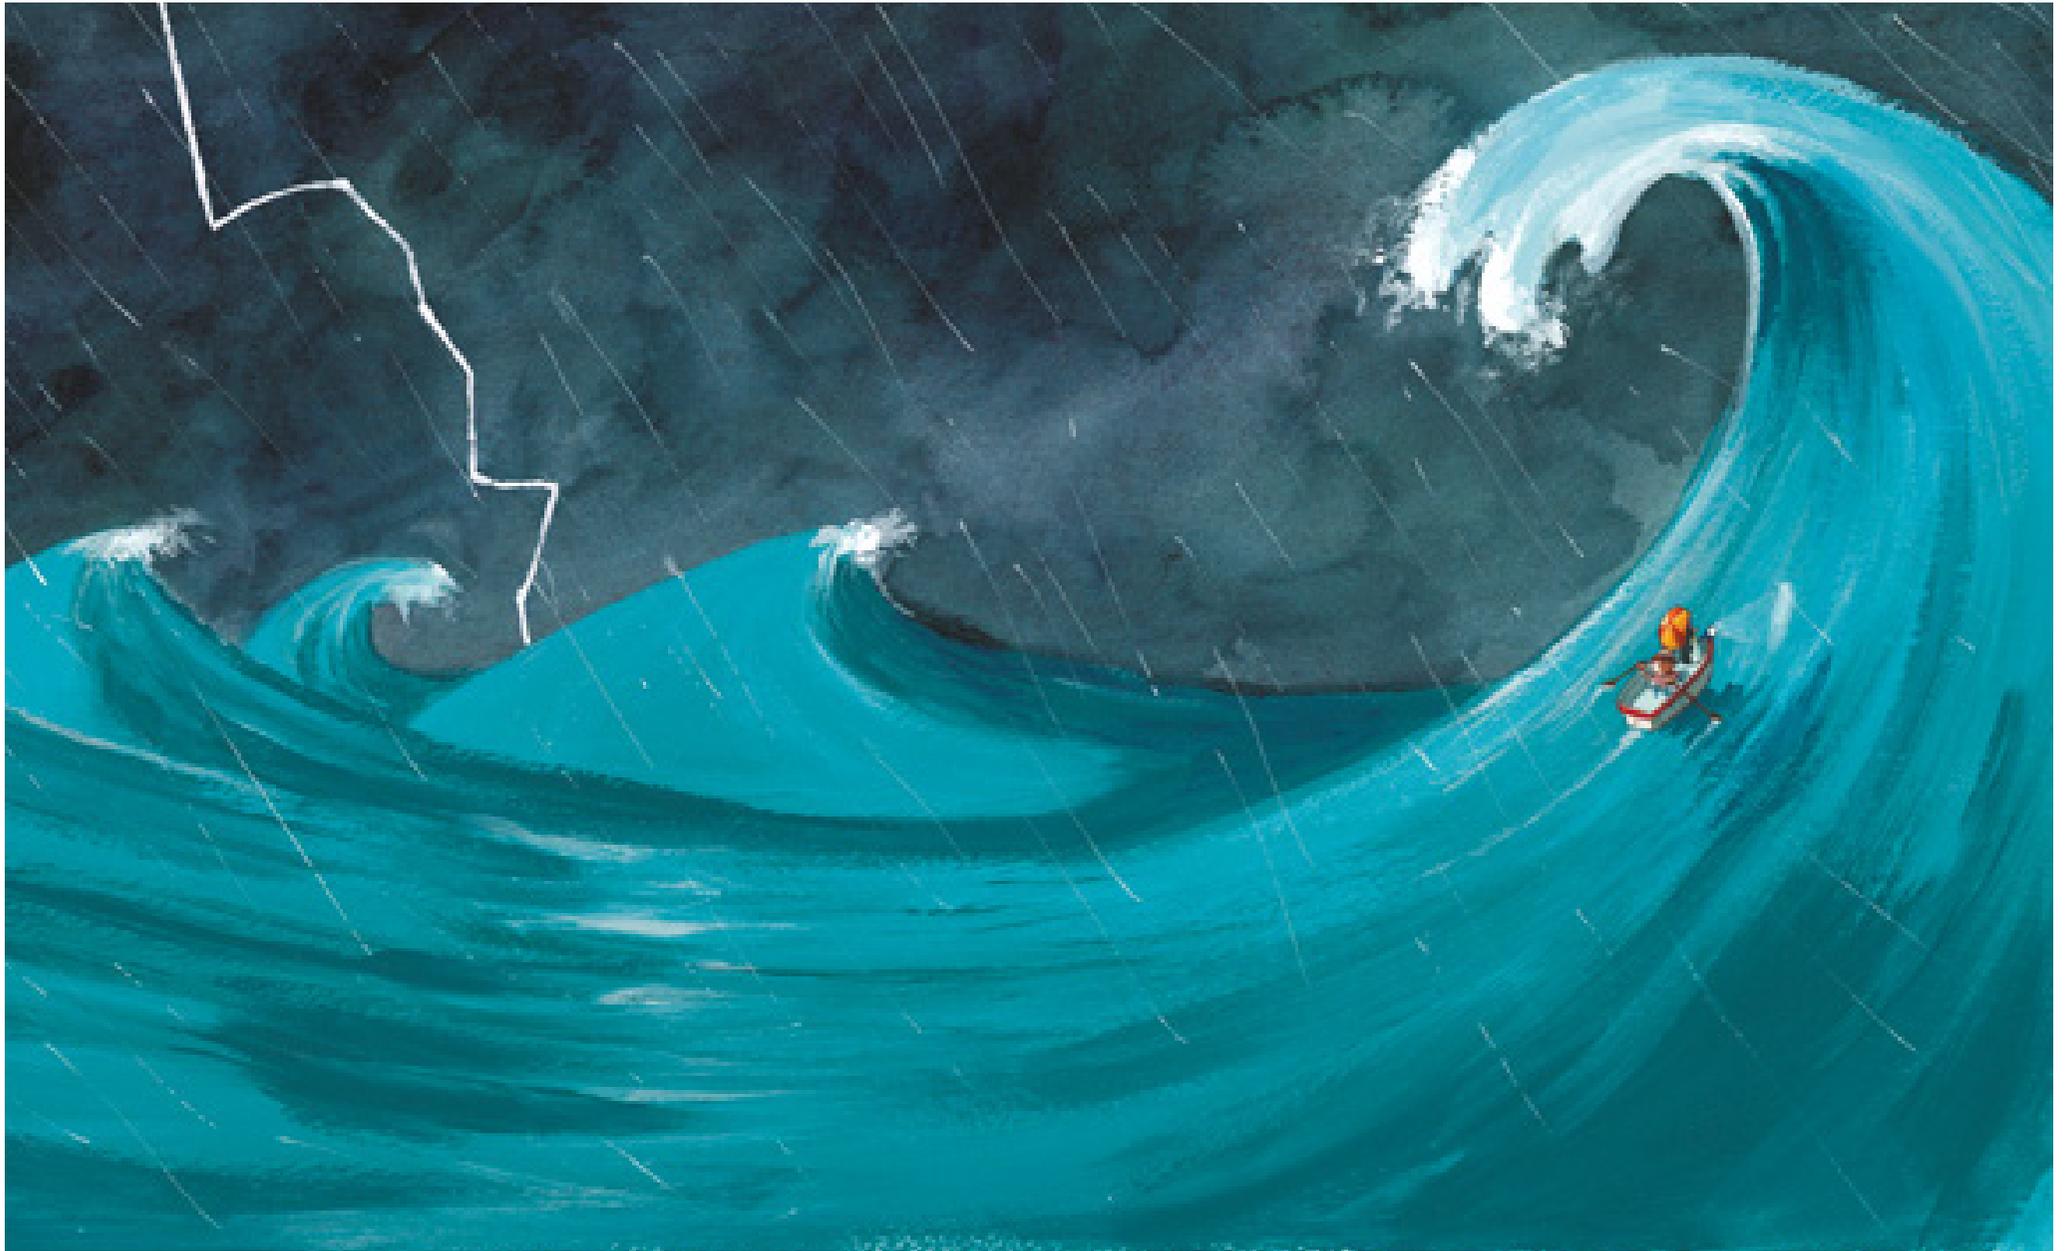

Here is an example collage to get you thinking...
